MORE THAN THE SUM OF THE PARTS. THE BIG +

When you combine materials from different Broadview brands — like Formica, FENIX, Arpa, Homapal, and Getacore — new creative possibilities open up. Unique textures, colors, and finishes come together to create a truly distinctive design.

We call it 'The Big +': a way to mix and match surface materials that helps you elevate your work, differentiate your products, and materialize imagination.

ARPA TUET

FENIX

Mix and match Arpa Tuet's deep textures with FENIX's timeless matt elegance

Since 1954, Arpa has blended iconic Italian design with material innovation to create high-quality surfaces that elevate interiors. From its roots in Bra, Italy, Arpa collaborates with craftsmen, architects, and kitchen makers to deliver Made-in-Italy solutions. Known for deep textures and sophisticated finishes, Arpa offers a unique visual and tactile experience — bringing refined aesthetics to kitchens, furniture, and commercial spaces.

HOMAPAL

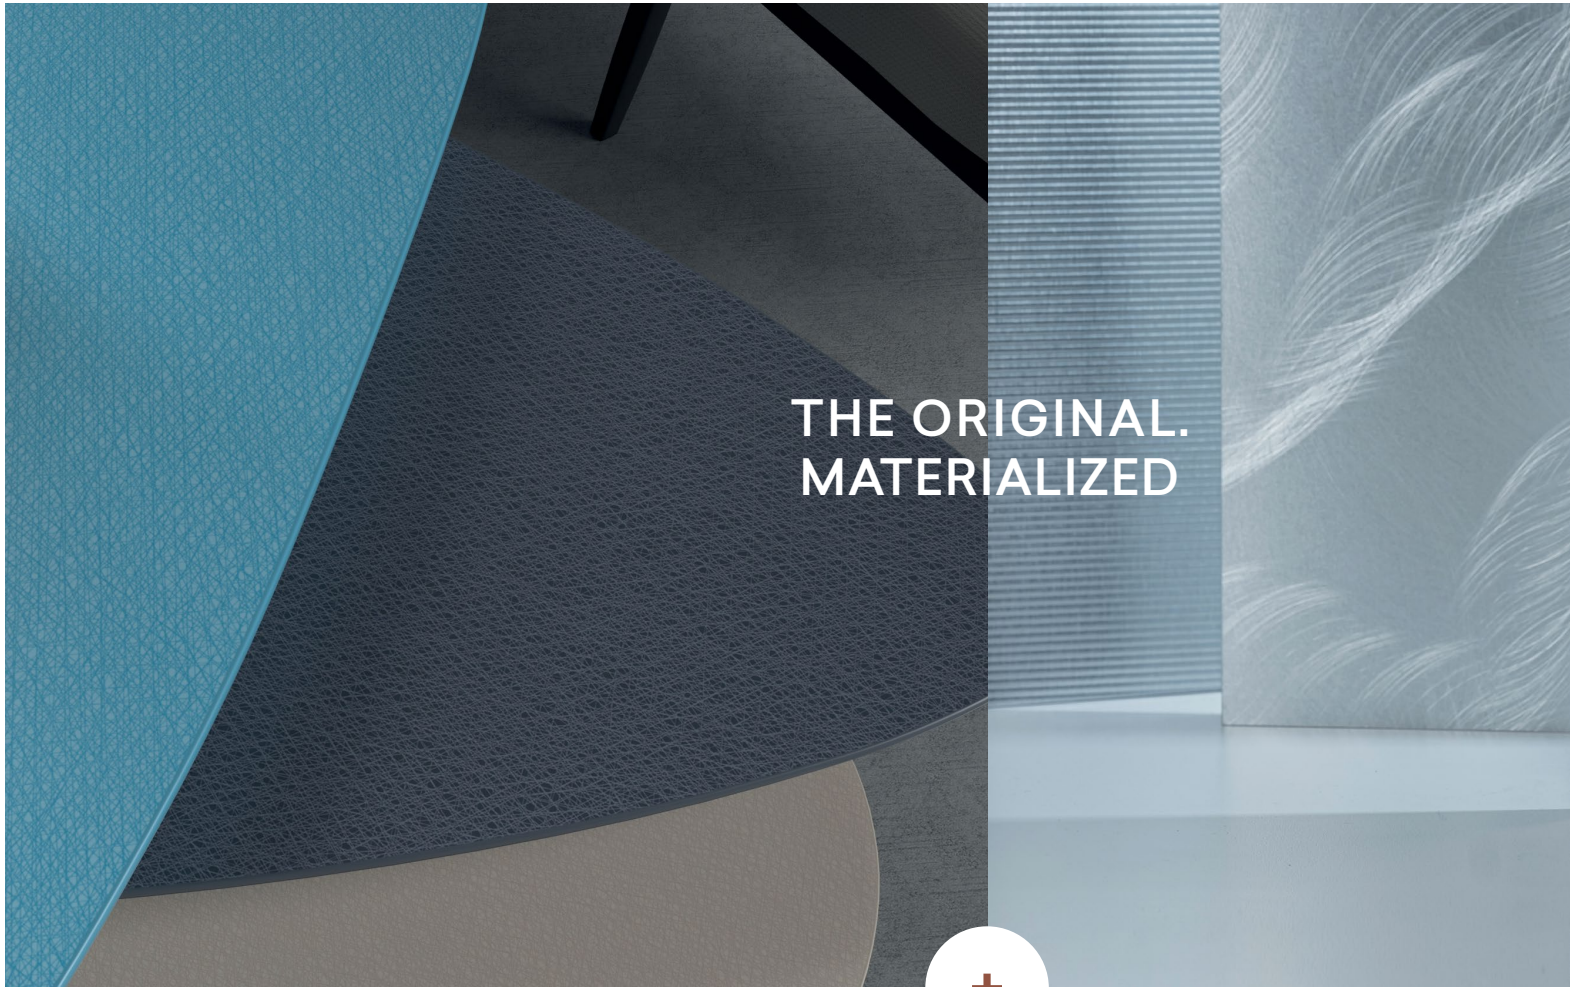

Mix and match FENIX's ultra-matt softness with Homapal's radiant metal finishes

FENIX®

FENIX brings Italian design and material innovation together in ultra-matt, soft-touch surfaces with anti-fingerprint properties. Thermal healing of superficial micro-scratches is also possible. Thanks to its distinctive technological features and timeless elegance, FENIX provides innovative and aesthetic answers to interior design trends. Loved by architects and users alike, FENIX empowers the creation of elegant kitchens, expressive furniture, and refined interiors that stand out in both form and function.

THE ORIGINAL. MATERIALIZED

FORMICA

HOMAPAL

Mix and match Formica's iconic color range with Homapal's radiant metallic finishes

Formica is more than a material — it's a design revolution that began in 1913. As the original inventor of HPL, Formica has shaped the way we live for over a century. From the post-war home to the contemporary kitchen, from mid-century modern to future-forward design, Formica has been there: expressive, functional, and always evolving.

Crafted primarily from paper, yet endlessly versatile, Formica laminate has become an icon — a medium for creativity, colour, texture and transformation. Designed for everyday excellence, it continues to lead through innovation, inspiring new generations of makers, architects, and interior storytellers.

HOMAPAL

FENIX

Mix and match Homapal's radiant metallics with FENIX's ultra-matt surfaces

Homapal brings metal to life. Using real aluminium, copper, brass and stainless steel, Homapal laminates add a subtle shine and distinctive texture to interior surfaces. From smooth to structured, the finishes catch the light and create a strong visual impression.

Made in Germany, Homapal stands for reliable quality and refined design. Whether applied to walls, furniture or fixtures, these metal surfaces define the space.
